Te-Kachi Commendations

Te-Kachi is a Japanese term for “one who adds value”. The International Martial Arts Council issues this special commendation for those who add value to their instructor, school or organization. It is an opportunity to say “Thanks” to the men and women who often work behind the scenes to make their instructor and school run more efficiently and effectively.

Rob Larwood

Shotokan Karate and Fitness

Mr. Larwood has been the backbone of our dojo. Even after he was injured during sparring practice, he has not stopped serving in the school. He has automated many of the registration and bookkeeping services, adding the ability to receive tuition payments via bank transfer, online banking and credit cards. Mr. Larwood maintains the dojo and its vehicles, and in 2018 came to the aid of “Superfoot” Bill Wallace at the IMAC National Training Camp when his travel suitcase fell apart. He is always willing to assist in any way, and no job is too dirty or too hard to do.

Carolina Marie Requejo

Shotokan Karate and Fitness

A Junior Leader at Shotokan Karate and Fitness, Carolina has overcome shyness to become an outstanding support member of the dojo. She helps get the Tiny Tigers ready for class and stands ready to assist the students. Carolina understands she has a responsibility to help guide these young students before, during, and after class as needed. She is always kind and respectful, but firm and insistent of respect and discipline. Her instructor, Shihan Sandra Larwood, says she will be a great black belt one day, and is already cultivating the character traits of a black belt as she continues to work on her own personal and professional development.

Charles-David Young

Distinguished Instructor of the Year

Master Young has an amazing way of connecting with his students and honoring them as individuals. At the same time, he pulls the very best out of them in an effort to help them grow and mature as martial artists. Master Young believes each student should grow in their own way, and this philosophy has made his school and his students better. His father, Gary Young, notes Master Young has always paid tremendous attention to the details of his Art and making sure his students were getting the individual attention they needed to see success. He is also passionate about cultivating and growing leaders in his school, teaching his growing number of black belts how to be successful instructors on their own.

Gary S. Young

Silver Life Award

Master Young is a very special member of the Song Moo Kwan family. While most Masters make their impact directly in their Art, he has made a significant difference behind the scenes, choosing to serve and add value to others. Master Young is the first to volunteer his time and resources to support the school and its students. He is a ranking Instructor at CD Young's Karate in Henderson NV where he serves on testing boards and can be found regularly assisting and instructing all ages and ranks. He is an encourager, helping students to believe in and pursue their dreams. He epitomizes the spirit and humility of the martial arts in his daily life.

Andrew Kimura

Distinguished Master Instructor

Sifu Andy Kimura has studied and taught Jun Fan Gung Fu / Jun Fan Jeet Kune Do for over 30 years. His father, Sigung Taky Kimura is one of only three people personally certified as an instructor by Sijo Bruce Lee. Andy Kimura is the only student whom Taky Kimura deemed worthy of a full instructorship and a Rank 6 in Jun Fan Gung Fu. Sifu Kimura has shown an impressive mastery of Jun Fan Gung Fu / Jeet Kune Do and has been put through the rigorous training required to obtain this unique distinction.

He was a board member of the Bruce Lee Foundation, a non-profit organization formed for the sole purpose of preserving and perpetuating Bruce Lee's art and philosophy. Currently, he is an advisor for the Bruce Lee Foundation.

Sifu Kimura has learned to appreciate the deeper, philosophical applications of the art that was entrusted to his father. Having lectured and taught thousands all over the United States, Europe, and Asia, Sifu Kimura is an accomplished educator in the areas of health, self-defense, philosophy and human development. He is currently developing a line of educational products that will assist him in spreading the teachings, that his family has kept privately over the decades, to sincere and interested individuals around the world.

In 2019, Sifu Kimura (in partnership with Sifu Matt Emery) presented the first ever, Jun Fan Gung Fu Institute of Seattle Instructors Conference in honor of Sigung Taky Kimura's 95th Birthday.

Taky Kimura

Martial Arts Legend

Sigung Taky Kimura is a Japanese American martial artist who is best known as being one of Sijo Bruce Lee's top students and closest friends. He is a certified instructor in Jun Fan Gung Fu, personally certified by Bruce Lee himself. Taky Kimura was also the best man at Bruce Lee's wedding, and was one of eight pallbearers during Bruce Lee's funeral. Sigung Taky has dedicated his life to promoting and perpetuating the art of Jun Fan Gung Fu / Jun Fan Jeet Kune Do. For over half a century Sigung Taky has quietly passed on the art entrusted to him by his best friend and teacher, Bruce Lee.

Growing up, Taky Kimura and his family were interned in a War Relocation Center (Internment Camp) during World War II, first at Tule Lake and later at Minidoka, due to their Japanese American heritage. Taky Kimura was actually taken to the camp one day before his high school graduation.

Sigung Taky currently holds a 7th level rank bestowed posthumously by Bruce Lee's widow, Linda Lee, by direction of her late husband, Bruce Lee. Sigung Taky was originally the only student under Bruce Lee to be given a 5th level ranking. When Lee closed his schools, Sigung Taky was allowed to continue to teach small classes under the mantra of "keep the numbers low, but the quality high."

To this day, the only person that Sigung Taky has certified as an instructor in Jun Fan Gung Fu is his son, Andy Kimura. Sigung Taky has appeared in many documentaries and films about Bruce Lee in order to help perpetuate his best friend's art and philosophy.

Sigung Taky is still teaching at 95 years old with his son, Andy. They continue to keep the Jun Fan Gung Fu Institute of Seattle alive and well, teaching a new generation of interested and dedicated students. In 2019, Sigung Taky celebrated his 95th Birthday, during the Jun Fan Gung Fu Institute of Seattle Instructors Conference.
